This polyphonic approach allows readers to understand the characters' inner thoughts, biases, and emotional states, often revealing conflicting perceptions of the same events. The novel's non-linear structure, with shifts in narrative perspective and time, exemplifies modernist experimentation. This technique emphasizes the subjective nature of reality and underscores themes of perception, truth, and individual experience.

Vardaman's literal mind, Dewey Dell's internal struggles, and Darl's introspective narration exemplify how individual perception shapes reality. Faulkner suggests that truth is elusive, and each person's version of events is inherently limited.
